The Roman Empire never fell. Riven by political ambition and internal dissent, thrown into turmoil by rebellion and civil war, it changed and adapted, and somehow it survived. The balance of power between Constantinopolis in the east and Roma in the west ebbed and flowed, but the Empire endured. And it continued to expand, encountering the New World while still dominating the old. Robert Silverberg's superbly accomplished and ambitious novel explores over fifteen hundred years of Roman history through the very human stories of some of those who lived it. The young soldier encountering the exoticism of the New World for the first time; the minor official exiled to Arabia, for some misdemeanour, whose meeting with a religious fanatic may have changed the course of history; the military hero seizing his destiny; the innocent British aristocrat witnessing at first hand the bloody destruction of the royal family, and the children who find the last emperor in a decaying house in an old wood are all vividly and memorably portrayed. Orlind. Locked behind impassable mountains, buried under the weight of a vast — and terrible — history, the Seventh Realm has remained a mystery all the long ages through. Until now. For the Lokant sorcerers' power and might grows by the day — and all their thought is bent upon Orlind. What secrets lie hidden behind so ancient an enchantment? What powers could be worth a war to win? For war has come to the Seven. The draykoni are on the attack — and Llandry's home city is first in the firing line. As Llandry fights to defend her home, Eva sets out upon the trail of the Lokant leader, Krays. If he's bound for Orlind, then so is she — and what she finds there may change the course of history forever. The mystery begun in Draykon reaches its climax in Orlind: an epic tale of valour and secrets, darkness and hope. The shocking return of Gadhio's dead wife reveals that the Church of Origin has been researching necromancy, ostensibly with the goal of helping people work through grief. Unconvinced, Flum decides to sneak back into one of the church's research facilities to conduct an investigation of her own--if, that is, she's prepared for what she might find there. After learning what Jean did to Flum and witnessing what horrors the spirals have wrought on Maria's body, Cyril finally snaps. Fleeing the castle, she wanders the streets until she crosses paths with a child named Mute. This chance encounter puts her story on the fast track toward tragedy as the capital counts down to a chaotic anniversary! Ancient legends don't come back to life. Until they do... The vast, winged draykoni once ruled the skies of the Seven Realms, uncontested and unstoppable — so the stories say. But they are only tales. Aren't they? A shy young woman is about to learn that sometimes, even the most far-fetched story might prove to be the plain, simple truth. In book one, Draykon: When Llandry Sanfaer discovers a new type of jewel, her life changes forever. Wonderful and terrible, the gem exerts a strange influence over those who behold it. Soon people are dying for it — and Llandry herself becomes a target. This is only the beginning. In book two, Lokant: the long-vanished draykoni race have returned, but with them comes another mystery. Who are the enigmatic, white-haired sorcerers stalking the draykoni across the Worlds? And what do they want with Llandry? As war builds between humankind and draykoni, Lady Evastany must uncover the truth about her own unique heritage — before it's too late. In book three, Orland: War has broken out between the humans of the Seven Realms and the long-lost draykoni race. As Llandry fights to defend her home, Eva begins a desperate quest into the heart of the mystical Lokant Libraries — a quest that will lead her deep into the mysteries of the long-lost Seventh Realm. Crooked adventurer Dein and his band of bullies continue to be a thorn in Flum's side--especially when she rescues a strange, mutilated girl named Ink from some of Dein's goons. Sweet

Ink quickly endears herself to Flum and her companions, but the girl with the sewn-shut eyes comes with her own dark baggage. Can Flum save her, or will her instinct to help another maiden in need lead to her own ruin this time? This Special Publication contains 43 scientific studies presented at the 5th conference on 'Clays in natural and engineered barriers for radioactive waste confinement' held in Montpellier, France in 2012. The conference and this resulting volume cover all the aspects of clay characterization and behaviour considered at various temporal and spatial scales relevant to the confinement of radionuclides in clay, from basic phenomenological process descriptions to the global understanding of performance and safety at repository and geological scales. Special emphasis has been given to the modelling of processes occurring at the mineralogical level within the clay barriers. The papers in this Special Publication consider research into argillaceous media under the following topic areas: large-scale geological characterization; clay-based concept/large-scale experiments; hydrodynamical modelling; geochemistry; geomechanics; mass transfer/gas transfer; mass transfer mechanisms. The collection of different topics presented in this Special Publication demonstrates the diversity of geological repository research. The exciting conclusion to a sumptuous gaslamp fantasy series! Leanna Renee Hieber brings Victorian London and New York to life and fills both cities with ghosts and monsters. Two groups of paranormally talented investigators discover that the Eterna compound—thought to be the key to immortality—is, instead, a powerful protective charm. That protection is sorely needed, for both England and the U.S. are under attack by dark forces. Having vanquished the demonic pretender to the British throne, the now-united forces of the Eterna Commission and the Omega Department reach America ready to take on a new menace. But like the United States itself, this evil is rapidly spreading from sea to shining sea. Will the new magic our heroes have discovered be strong enough to defeat it? With its blend of Victorian details, complex plots, and compelling characters, Hieber's fascinating historical fantasy continues to earn critical acclaim. An international comparative directory including oil, acrylic and watercolour paints, inks, pastels and pencils, brushes, papers and canvases, easels, palettes, pads, tapes, and drawing and calligraphy equipment. A reference guide to the vast array of art song literature and composers from Latin America, this book introduces the music of Latin America from a singer's perspective and provides a basis for research into the songs of this richly musical area of the world. The book is divided by country into 22 chapters, with each chapter containing an introductory essay on the music of the region, a catalog of art songs for that country, and a list of publishers. Some chapters include information on additional sources. Singers and teachers may use descriptive annotations (language, poet) or pedagogical annotations (range, tessitura) to determine which pieces are appropriate for their voices or programming needs, or those of their students. The guide will be a valuable resource for vocalists and researchers, however familiar they may be with this glorious repertoire. The nail-biting vampire thriller from the world-famous director of Pan's Labyrinth and Hellboy. Beauty told throughout a magnificent selection of photos from the most famous calendar in the world. A history of customs, aesthetics and art, from the 1960s to the present. Donna M. Goldstein presents a hard-hitting critique of urban poverty and violence and challenges much of what we think we know about the "culture of poverty" in this compelling read. Drawing on more than a decade of experience in Brazil, Goldstein provides an intimate portrait of everyday life among the women of the favelas, or urban shantytowns in Rio de Janeiro, who cope with unbearable suffering, violence and social abandonment. The book offers a clear-eyed view of socially conditioned misery while focusing on the creative responses—absurdist and black humor—that people generate amid daily conditions of humiliation, anger, and despair. Goldstein helps us to understand that such joking and laughter is part of an emotional aesthetic that defines the sense of frustration and anomie endemic to the political and economic desperation among residents of the shantytown. Roma, with its over 2,500 glorious years of history and beauty, is a place which occupies an incomparable place in our civilization. The over 170 photos, taken in October and December 2011, show a charming variety of images of the Forum Romanum, Amphitheatrum Flavium (Colosseum), Trajan's Column and of other splendid places from Rome. After reading this book, it will be very easy to understand why Rome is so full of history and beauty that the more you know about it, the more you love it. Millions of visitors who see Rome for a second time say that Rome looks, if anything, younger and newer; this is the reason why Roma is called La Citta Eterna - the Eternal City. This collection of Chinese stories begins with the great legends of how Earth and Heaven came into being. There are folk-tales too, about ghosts, rain-makers, students and magicians, and a man who is nearly made into fishpaste. Robert Silverberg a reçu en 2004 pour l'ensemble de son oeuvre le titre de Grand Maître de la Science-Fiction, la plus haute distinction honorifique du domaine. Sur près de deux mille ans, Silverberg illustre par tableaux successifs une histoire parallèle d'un Empire Romain qui a connu bien des vicissitudes, des guerres et des crises politiques mais qui n'a jamais cessé d'exister et de faire régner, avec quelques interludes sanglants, la Pax Romana. Le Christianisme en est absent, ne serait-ce que parce que les Juifs n'ont jamais réussi à quitter l'Égypte des Pharaons. Quelques siècles plus tard, un envoyé spécial de l'Empereur particulièrement perspicace liquide proprement un prophète d'Arabie avant qu'il ait eu le temps de fonder l'Islam. Et donc l'Empire a survécu, avec ses dieux auxquels personne ne croit. Trop vaste pour être gouverné par un seul homme, il est le plus souvent divisé en deux zones d'influence, l'Empire d'Orient et l'Empire d'Occident qui parfois se chamaillent, se font même la guerre mais finissent toujours par se réunifier. Written by Borges's mentor in the 1930s, but unpublished until after Fernandez's death, Museum is an "anti-novel," opening with more than fifty prologues—some philosophical, some outrageous—and ending with a novel featuring characters who are aware they're in a novel. Incredibly innovative, Macedonio deemed this "The First Good Novel," a counterpart to his very conventional "Last Bad Novel." A true masterpiece. London, 1882: Queen Victoria appoints Harold Spire of the Metropolitan Police to Special Branch Division Omega. Omega is to secretly investigate paranormal and supernatural events and persons. Spire, a skeptic driven to protect the helpless and see justice done, is the perfect man to lead the department, which employs scholars and scientists, assassins and con men, and a traveling circus. Spire's chief researcher is Rose Everhart, who believes fervently that there is more to the world than can be seen by mortal eyes. Their first mission: find the Eterna Compound, which grants immortality. Catastrophe destroyed the hidden laboratory in New York City where Eterna was developed, but the Queen is convinced someone escaped—and has a sample of Eterna. Also searching for Eterna is an American, Clara Templeton, who helped start the project after the assassination of Abraham Lincoln nearly destroyed her nation. Haunted by the ghost of her beloved, she is determined that the Eterna Compound—and the immortality it will convey—will be controlled by the United States, not Great Britain. A discovery of eternity within the present moment. The newest treasure of prose by Benjamin Dunn. Poi si torno all' eterna fontana. Return to the eternal fountain. One gift of this book is that it says as simply as possible: an apple is not the word 'apple', it is itself. We can't wrap the equator around ourselves as a belt, we can't eat an inch or drink a mile, and we can't put an hour into a pipe and smoke it. Yesterday & tomorrow have no substance. These are made of the conceptual world, the unreal. Words and concepts help us understand our experience but can never define it. They help us communicate but can also be the very things that keep us... ...from true understanding & communion with eternity in the timeless now. They can keep us from actually living and enjoying life. We surround ourselves with endless safety lines of religion and concepts that are more fragile than a snowflake. They break at the slightest movement or change. No one can ever bargain on the banana peel! The lion is not tame. No investment in this world is solid. None are failsafe. They are not made to be, Grace is built into the infrastructure. There are angels in the architecture. We are all so hung up on ourselves and how we're portraying our person, prisoners of what other people think or of telling others how to think (though it's only our story that's told to us). We're clenched up and clinging to un-forgiveness and trying to heal our perceived past hurts, pissing our minds and thoughts away into the wind and anxiety of a non-existent future, and wondering why it's all blowing back into our faces. None of it is real, none at all. Here we are, right now, and this is the place we've always been, now & eternally. Our temporal hang ups matter very little to a being who has prepared a never-ending lifetime of Laughter & Joy for us. They have no weight or substance, no value. Illusions & fancies, ghosts that you can wave your hand through. I'm not attempting to minimize the darkness of abuses, sufferings, tragedy troubles and pains - or trying to quiet our insatiable passions and dreams. I'm saying now is the place and time to live. Right now, right here. Not in the past of hurt, or in the anxiety of uncertain future, but right here and now in the eternal present moment. "To see a world in a grain of sand, or heaven in a wildflower. Hold infinity in the palm of your hand, and eternity in an hour." After yet another late night of playing his favorite dating sim, Fudou Niito—a self-proclaimed lazy NEET—suddenly wakes up to find himself inside the game! Stranger still, he hasn't been reincarnated as the main character, Verner, or as his beloved waifu, Eterna... Instead, he's Ellize, the absolutely awful fake saint who stole Eterna's rightful place and made her life a living hell! And so, Niito now has one goal: change the story to ensure the game's tragic heroine finally gets the happy ending she deserves! To do that, he'll have to play matchmaker for Verner and Eterna while also boosting the saint's popularity! Can this imposter scheme his way into a happy future for his favorite character?
